

The Wonderful Game

This Soft Landing is a fun way for a group to affirm one another. Begin by writing the names of your group members in the blanks on the left side of the page. Fill in the names in the order of where each person is sitting, starting clockwise with the person on your left. Then complete the sentences, for example, "If Michael was a book, he would be The World Book Encyclopedia because he knows about so many things." When everyone is finished, take turns sharing your answers.
