

Relationship Trouble

Please pray for me, (your name). Please pray that the love in my relationship is restored, revived, renewed, reborn, strengthened and healed. I pray that (name) fears go away and that he realizes how special our love truly is. I pray that he stays faithful to me physically and emotionally. Lord Jesus, you are the source of all love and goodness. You have created us to love and be loved and you have given us our family, friends and loved ones to experience this love. I come to you now humbly asking for healing as I suffer now because of a broken relationship. Grant me, Lord, the grace of true forgiveness, to let go of all my bitterness, anger and buried resentments and choose to forgive even if it hurts. I ask that you grant me the grace of humility to ask forgiveness, too, for my own mistakes and for patience and perseverance to keep on in this journey towards reconciliation despite the challenges and trials along the way. Lord, you know all things, you can do all things and you love me as you also love whoever it might be I am having trouble with. Touch our heart with your power that can heal all damaged relationships and bring reconciliation realizing the importance of being at peace with ourselves and others. Let all blaming ease and let each person see things from your point of view and through your eyes of love. Let your love break down all dividing walls and barriers between (name) and (your name). Restore our relationship and lead us to seek and follow your will and divine plan for our lives. Let joy rest in our hearts once again. I ask humbly in the name of Jesus, your son. With love in Christ, Thank you Lord for all your countless blessings.

Amen.
