

I WON'T ASK (just so you know!)

I won't ask what kind of car you drove.

I will ask how many people you drove who didn't have transportation.

I won't ask how big was your house.

I will ask how many people you welcomed into your home.

I won't ask about the clothes you had in your closet.

I will ask how many you helped clothe.

I won't ask what social class you were in.

I will ask what kind of "class" you displayed.

I won't ask how many material possessions you had.

I will ask whether those material possessions dictated your life.

I won't ask what your highest salary was.

I will ask if you trampled over any people to obtain that salary.

I won't ask how many promotions you received.

I will ask what you did to promote others.

I won't ask what your job title was.

I will ask did you perform your to the best of your ability.

I won't ask how many degrees you had.

I will ask how many people you thanked for helping you get those degrees.

I won't ask what your parents did to help you.

I will ask what you did to help your parents.

I won't ask what you did to help yourself.

I will ask what you did to help others.

I won't ask how many friends you had on Facebook.

I will ask how many people you were a friend to.

I won't ask what you did to protect your rights.

I will ask what you did to protect the rights of others.

I won't ask what neighborhood you lived in.

I will ask what other neighborhoods you visited.

I won't ask about the color of your skin.

I will ask about the content of your character.
