

Occupy

We celebrate Christmas because 2000 years ago

God chose to sanctify human beings by entering the world as one.

The creator had already occupied the earth, which had been lovingly created.

Now it was time for humanity to take their special place in the universe.

He lived and proclaimed a message of love.

Love in the face of all odds.

Love in the face of all danger.

Maybe it is time for people who believe in that love to occupy the earth.

To make a stand with the way we live, declaring that the path we are on is not filled with grace, integrity and dignity.

That we are better than this cesspool of greed and fear and hate.

What will it take to wake up?

What are we waiting for?
