

My Child:

Hello my child how are you today!

It is so great to be able to write to you on this day. I see you have a relationship with someone special to you and its is going well.

I am so happy to see you happy my child. Now you are probably wondering or expecting me to notify you in someway whether or not this person is the one you will spend the rest of your life with. Truth be told I cannot tell you that because that decision is completely up to the two of you. I cannot make anyone love.

I can only show how to love hoping whoever learns of my great love will deliver it to the world. Since everything is going so well than I recommend you hold on to every special moment with that person.

Cherish all the wonderful moments of love and happiness that you share.

I say this because you never know what life is going to give you. Please remember I do not control everything that happens in the world because if I did believe me my child we would not have my own children fighting each other. So those things that I can control I will make sure they get sent your way somehow but it is completely up to you how you interpret it and how u act. If you both truly care for each other hold on to each other and enjoy each others company as much as you can. Remember there are so many of my other children who wish they had someone special as you do right now.

So do not take that person for granted my love and I ask that you do not hurt each other. So many of my children have hurt each other which has broken my heart and has me stricken with grief.

Please do not add to it but bring prolonged happiness to each other.

Love each other and respect one another. Trust in me first to help guide you along the obstacles of a powerful relationship and you will be able to trust each other my child. Please remember how happy I am for you and how much I deeply love you.

I will always watch over you and take care after you just remember to pray and allow me to enter your heart and soul.

And don't forget to visit my home and join me to discuss your day and anything else on your mind.

I love you always and very very much

Love Always,

Your Father, God
