

For a lesson on sex, you can use a simple Moon Pie snack to illustrate how sex affects people.

Have someone come to the front and hand that person a Moon Pie. Then ask them to separate the marshmallow from the cake without destroying it. It will be impossible for them to separate them without completely wrecking the whole thing. Follow up by asking kids how and why intercourse permanently connects the people involved.