

If your students are using What (Almost) Nobody Will Tell You about Sex, you can direct them to Excuses, Excuses; Entitlement; AIDS & HIV (pages 88, 95).

- Q: Why do you think so many people live in isolation, thinking and feeling as though they are the only ones dealing with specific issues?
- Do you think there's any solution to that? What could one be?
- Q: Someone has to go first. What do you think it takes to be that person?
- How does sharing with another person relate to our responsibility toward them?
  - What do you think that costs?
  - What do you believe it's worth? Why?

To help students further realize how their story might be shared, use the questions from Alone Together (page 161 in this book) for additional large or small group discussion, or possibly as a tool for individual, personal reflection.
