

Sharing Dreams

Here's your chance to dream about your future. Get together with one other person from your group and interview each other on your future plans.

Below is a list of questions. Each of you has seven minutes to interview your partner. You can choose as many or as few of the questions as you wish, but you only have seven minutes. Then, your youth leader is going to call time and ask you to reverse roles.

If you have time at the end, you can give your partner FEEDBACK from the interview—using the half-finished sentences at the bottom.

1. What would you like to be doing five years from now?
2. Where would you like to be living five years from now?
3. In 10 years, how much money would you like to be making?
4. What will it take for you to get where you want to be in 10 years?
5. What values will you look for in the person you will marry?
6. What spiritual commitment would you want this person to have?
7. How many children would you like to have? Boys or girls?
8. When are you going to allow them to start dating?
9. Are you going to send them to a private school or a public school?
10. Will you invite your parent(s) to live with you when they get older, or will you have them go to a nursing home?
11. Will you get along better with your parent(s) when you leave home?
12. Are you going to be more or less strict with your kids than your parents have been with you?

FEEDBACK: Finish these two sentences about your partner.

1. As I listened to you talk about your dreams, I was reminded of the song or movie ...
2. The thing I appreciate about what you said was ...
