I don't think that you remember me, but my class went to here you speak for our Confirmation retreat. I go to Our Lady Queen of Martyrs. I just really need help right now, and I wanted to ask for your assistance. So you see, everyone in my class gossips, Even I do. Everyone always has something to say. Earlier this year everything on my end was fine and dandy, everyone liked me, I was having fun and nothing was hurting me. But for the past few months, almost everyone hates me. Out of the 29 students in my class, I think only 10-13 like me even a little. I think that they don't like me because I'm really loud. I can also be really bitchy and rude, but I try to apologize. I really hate that everyone hates me. I miss being liked. I just need help winning people back. And I don't have the courage to confront people, because it probably will backfire. I try praying and asking God for help, but nothing's happening. I just wanna win everyone over, and fast.

1- stop worrying about what everyone is thinking and saying
2- stop striving so hard to be liked, people sense when someone is doing this and they will play ugly games
3- forget about you and try being kind to others no matter what they do to you in return 4- pray for your enemies
5- talk with someone to get at the root of why you don't treat people good 6- love, don't judge
7 one more thing, when you pray, pray for God's will, not for what you want to come quickly. Be willing to wait and work for what's good and right & don't expect fast results
