

THEY were going to be all that they wanted to be—tomorrow.
None would be braver, or kinder than they—tomorrow.
A friend who was troubled and weary, they knew, would be glad of a lift—and needed it too.
On him they would call—see what they could do—tomorrow.

Each morning they stacked up the letters they'd write—tomorrow.
And thought of the folks they would fill with delight—tomorrow.
The greatest of people they just might have been, the world would have opened its heart to them. But in fact, they passed on and faded from view and all that they left when their living was through was a mountain of things they intended to do—tomorrow.

Trust me —
A rut is the greatest test of character known
to man

Give Lavishly! Live Abundantly!

The more you give, the more you get—
The more you laugh, the less you fret—
The more you do unselfishly,
The more you live abundantly...
The more of everything you share,
The more you'll always have to spare—
The more you love, the more you'll find
That life is good and friends are kind...
For only what we give away
Enriches us from day to day.

WISDOM FROM HELEN KELLER I believe that we can live on earth according to the teachings of Jesus, and that the greatest happiness will come to the world when man obeys His commandment "Love ye one another."

I believe that we can live on earth according to the fulfillment of God's will, and that when the will of God is done on earth as it is done in heaven, every man will love his fellow men, and act towards them as he desires they should act towards him. I believe that the welfare of each is bound up in the welfare of all.

I believe that life is given us so we may grow in love, and I believe that God is in me as the sun is in the color and fragrance of a flower -- the Light in my darkness, the Voice in my silence.

I believe that only in broken gleams has the Sun of Truth shone upon men. I believe that love will finally establish the Kingdom of God on earth, and that the Cornerstones of that Kingdom will be Liberty, Truth, Brotherhood, and Service.
