

CALL YO MAMA

For this fun and easy game, bring a teenager up front and ask him or her a series of three random questions. They could be about anything: "Who was your 3rd-grade teacher?" "What's your favorite food?" "What was your favorite childhood TV show?" Once the teenager has answered, you call up the teenager's mom and put her on speakerphone. Ask her the same three questions about her teenager, and if her answers match, the student wins a prize. Lots of laughs, especially if you know the mom well.
