

Concentration

Gather about 20 objects and put them on a tray. When you are ready to play, uncover the tray in front of the group. Give everyone two minutes to memorize what is on the tray. Then take it away and pass out paper and pencils. The group will have five minutes to write down everything they remember that was on the tray. After that bring the tray back so they can see how accurate they were. The one who had the most correct answers wins.
