

DOOR SUR-PRIZES

Give away a door prize at every party. Here are some suggestions:

- The Perfect Gift to Take Care of All Your Hang-Ups.

Two clothes hangers. Also keeps your room clean.

- Fourteen-Carrot Gold Ring. Fourteen carrots with greens secured together in a giant ring, sprayed with gold paint. Hang around winner's neck.

- California Wet Suit. One pair of baby's plastic pants. A vacation must. Stops the water, but not the sun.

- Tickets to a Free Dinner. Give two blank tickets. Dinner follows the floor show which begins at 7:30. Courtesy of the San Francisco (or any glamorous city) Gospel Mission.

- Motorized Brick for Lazy Radicals. Attach wings, engine, and propeller from an inexpensive toy plane to a brick. Eliminates effort, personal involvement, and risk of incarceration. Just aim brick on a long, smooth surface and start the engine.

- A Couple of Dates Lined Up for Two Guys. Two attractive girls come out, hold up a long string threaded through two dates (fruit).

- Free Chicken Dinner. One small plastic bag full of birdseed, a dinner to delight any chicken.

- Automatic Egg Beater. Tell your students, "We couldn't afford the giant-sized maxi-stir or the medium-sized midi-stir, so we are giving you the inexpensive mini-stir. Pastor Jones, would you please say a few words appropriate for the occasion?" The pastor could respond with the following: "When the time's up, just pull my plug. Actually, Joe's afraid I'll get you all mixed up."

- Vacuum Cleaner or Dishwasher. Introduce the surprise clean-up committee or K. P. crew to be run by the winner.
