

HUMAN CROSSWORD

Make up a crossword puzzle similar to the sample below, with limbs that branch off at a variety of places in the puzzle. Plan your crossword so that several names of your young people will fit into the puzzle—but add some extra word-spaces that allow for kids' creativity. Award prizes to those who get the most names into their puzzle.

Human Crossword

Find, track, hunt down as many people as possible in the allotted time. Find out their first, middle, and last names and use one, two, or all three names in the puzzle. Letters must match up in adjoining names. Use the spaces below for those names that just don't fit. Nicknames are allowed (for example, Rodney/Rod: yes; Darren/Dar: no). Have fun and fill as many spaces as possible!
