

prep game for a larg-ish room.
It" and have him or her stand in the middle with eyes closed (or blindfolded).
Have It count to 10—or use music as a timer—while every other person quietly and quickly makes their way to one of the four corners. When time is up, It shouts out one of the four numbers. Anyone standing in that corner is out. Repeat the process until only one person is left—and that person becomes the new It.
