

Line Pull

Divide the group into two equal teams. The teams then face each other by lining up on two sides of a line drawn on the floor. The object of the game is to pull the other team onto your side of the line. You cannot move behind your side of the line farther than three feet, and you must try to reach out and grab someone on the other side of the line without stepping over the line. Once you are over the line, you are automatically a member of that team and then you must try to help pull your former team over the line. At the end of the time period, the team with the largest number wins. This game can symbolize the pressure and pull of groups/gangs upon individuals or being pulled across your personal lines of morality.

