

Line Up

The object of this exercise is to line up according to shoe size without talking—in the dark. Turn out the lights and quickly form a single line, moving people around until you think you have everyone lined up according to shoe size. Then, turn on the lights and see how you did.

Another way to line up is according to height.

