

Name That Tune

Divide into teams of eight. Have several old and new tunes recorded on tape but make sure to use an instrumental part so they can't guess it from the lyrics. You can also have someone play these melodies on an instrument (recorded or live). Then assign each team a trademark sound that they must make when they want to guess the tune. Modify the rules to your situation and whichever team has guessed the most tunes at the end wins.

