

PLUNGER BALL

TRY THIS ONE: GAME

Hilarity quickly replaces competition in this wacky version of Kickball.

You'll need four brand-new plungers, a playground ball, and four bases for this game. Form two teams and start this game just like Kickball, with one team in the outfield and one at bat. Players must follow these rules:

- The pitcher bounces the ball to the batter at home plate.
- Instead of kicking the ball, batters must hit the ball with a plunger.
- Batters run the bases in the opposite direction (clockwise, so first base is third, and so on).

- While they run the bases, players hold a plunger firmly on their heads.
- Right-handed fielders must throw the ball with their left hands, and vice versa.
- A runner is out when he or she is hit below the shoulders with the ball, when a base runner is tagged on a force-out, or when a runner removes the plunger from his or her head while running bases.

The team that scores the most runs during a predesignated amount of time is the winner.
