

RIP-OFF!

For this game you'll need different colors of duct tape—at least three.

Divide your group into as many teams as you have colored tape, and assign a color to each team. Have each team member rip off a foot-long piece of their color of tape and stick it to their back. The goal of the game is to rip off the tape of other teams' members, while keeping your own. When your tape is ripped off, you're out of the game. Last team wins.

One variation is to play with one color, and it's every person for his or herself.
