

TRUE OR FALSE

This game takes no prep at all—simply designate one side of the room as True and one side as False. Then have an adult—or a teenager—come up with a True/False statement about his or herself. Then have teenagers go to the side of the room that they think is correct. If you chose correctly you stay in, otherwise you sit down.

This is a great way to learn something new about people in the group. As a variant you can have people hold up a couple of fingers as “extra lives,” and when people get one wrong they have to put a finger down. This keeps the game going a bit longer.