

TV QUIZ SHOW

Your group has been chosen to be participants on the latest TV quiz show! This is your chance to reveal some interesting characteristics about yourself and win some “funny money” by predicting what the others in the group are likely to choose. Like a TV quiz show, someone from the group picks a category and reads the four questions—pausing to let the others in the group guess before revealing the answer. When the first person is finished, everyone adds up the money they won by guessing right. Go around the group and have each person take a category. The person with the most money at the end wins.
