

Water Balloon Over and Under

Get for each group of 6–8 a strong rubber balloon half-filled with water. Have several extra balloons ready in case a balloon pops. Form each group in a line. Give the first person in each group the balloon. At the word “GO,” this person passes the balloon over the top of their head to the next person. The second person passes the balloon under their legs to the third person. The third person ... over the head, etc. When the last person in the line gets the balloon, this person rushes to the front of the line and passes the balloon over his/her head, etc. Continue until the first person on each team comes to the front again. If a balloon bursts, supply the group with another balloon where it burst.

Water Balloon Toss

Use large rubber balloons filled with water, and rope for a dividing line.

Divide the group in half. Pair off and stand facing each other across the dividing line (rope). Each pair is given one balloon filled with water. On the word “GO,” the person with the balloon tosses the balloon to their partner. If the balloon pops, both are eliminated. If the balloon does not pop, the leader will ask everyone to take one step backward and prepare for the next toss.

When everyone is in position, those with the balloons toss the balloon to their partners. If the balloon does not pop, take one step backward and prepare for the next round.

Continue tossing the balloons back and forth until only one couple remains.
