

Party Quirks

1. Obsessed with ^{everyone's} shoes
2. constantly aging throughout the party
3. the more attracted to someone he/she is, the faster he/she talks
4. an angry contestant on the Jerry Springer show
5. Overly dramatic private eye investigator finding ridiculous clues to a murder
6. Horrified member of the fashion police rounding up citizens for crimes against fashion
7. A baby learning to walk
8. The lead singer of an 80's glam rock band
9. A football quarterback
10. Mentions a body part in every sentence
11. Napoleon Dynamite
12. A sports commentator
13. Has dramatic bi-polar disorder
14. thinks it's a high school reunion
15. thinks everything is poisoned
16. constantly steals things from the party
17. peed their pants and trying to hide it
18. Thinks everyone has bad breath

Party Quirks

Five people from each class participate. One person plays the host of the party, while the other four act as guests to the party that each has a "quirk." The guests act out their assigned "quirk" to the best of their ability and the host tries to guess what or who they are. The participants are encouraged to act silly.