

the hot seat

We asked our teenagers to write out questions suitable for asking other teenagers.

For example, “If you were stuck on an island, which three books would you want with you?” Or “If you could have dinner with one person, who would it be, and why?” We edit the questions as necessary.

Each week we stick another teenager on The Hot Seat and ask that person a number of these questions. This always generates lots of laughs, and gives us a glimpse into these teens’ lives.
