

TOPIC: GETTING TO KNOW YOU

METHOD: Each student is given a sheet of paper and a pencil. They are asked to draw a picture of their dinner table and who sits at their table each evening.

DISCUSSION:

This is an excellent method of finding out about each student's family life, if there is a mom/dad at home, siblings, other members of their family that may live with them.

This can be taken one step further by asking them to draw lines between the members of the family that interact, in their eyes, at dinner table.

This is very successful for one of the first lessons taught.
