

I AM CALLED TO: Make disciples through teaching the Bible and modeling a life dedicated to following Jesus

IN MY MINISTRY I NEED: Support. More people living the same call as me, prayer supporters, and access to resources.

I'VE QUIT (OR ALMOST QUIT) YOUTH MINISTRY BECAUSE: Poor communication with other church leaders, feeling alone in ministry.

I'M STILL IN YOUTH MINISTRY BECAUSE: God put me there, and as long as I am close to him, he is the one doing youth ministry through me.

FIVE TOTALLY RANDOM THINGS ABOUT MY MINISTRY:

1. It's flexible.
 2. My kids are awesome.
 3. We love to pray.
 4. I never knew I was called to work with teenagers until I tried it.
 5. We think the Skit Guys are the best.

FIVE YOUTH MINISTRY CONFESSIONS:

1. I find it hard to let other people run meetings. If I put it in place, I feel like I'm the only person who can do it right.
 2. I perceive that the biggest challenge to youth ministry is the breakdown of the family. Check the stats for Detroit!
 3. Every fundraiser we have tried has been fairly disastrous, yet God has provided for us to do many great activities.
 4. Continuing on the finance theme, I am horrible at tracking budgets and spending, so I really have no idea how we did it.
 5. Despite my best efforts, I have favorites.
