

CULTURE

THE GREAT NEED OF YOUTH CULTURE

Teenagers in this emerging generation long for relationships. But they're not ultimately seeking a relationship with other human beings. Instead, they're crying out for a restored relationship with their Creator. If the crux of your youth ministry is to point desperate youth to that relationship, I'd bet my paycheck that it's because you're desperate for Jesus yourself—your own hunger for Christ becomes their hunger.

WALT MUELLER