

Take time at your monthly staff meeting to reward one of your volunteers with a unique gift—an extension cord.

Announce that you'd like to highlight an adult leader who's done a great job of helping to plug kids into Christ, and then present that person with a large extension cord. Be specific about what that led you to honor this particular volunteer. Then either have the person keep the extension cord as a permanent sign of encouragement, or have him or her keep it for one month, sign it, and then present it to another leader who's helping students get plugged in.
