

WEEKENDERS

I'm finding that more and more families are away from worship on Sunday mornings because of travel, sports, clubs, college visits, camping, and so on.

So we created WeekEnders—a packet that contains guided devotions, scripture, and response questions. This assumes teenagers will grab the packets before they head out of town, and many do. We encourage the teenagers to lead the family devotions themselves. Most of the WeekEnders focus on a topic we're discussing in the services that month, or they follow a series based on, say, the fruits of the Spirit. It's a great way for teenagers and families to stay connected when they're away.
