

HEAD OF THE CLASS

It's the time of year when we parade our seniors in front of the church and say nice things about them.

This year, in addition to the niceties, give them something that might serve them in their upcoming adventures. Ask 20 or 30 members of the congregation to finish this sentence: "One of the most important things to know about college—that no one ever tells you—is..." Pick the best 10 or so pieces of advice, and read those on Graduation Sunday (or even better, have their "authors" speak them in person). You can even give the seniors a nice copy
