

MARRIAGE

Marriage that forms a more solid basis
for the relationship,
will stand the test of time and
contribute to the positive advancement and growth
of both involved.

Marriage--
that relationship with demands and responsibility
to discipline,
duty,
personal sacrifice,
patience,
and the daily conflicts and challenges
to be faced and dealt with intelligently.

Marriage--
that relationship which presents
the possibility of both
"goodness" and "Godness".

Marriage--
that forum for the possibility of developing
and harvesting
wholeness in ourselves
and the other partner.

Marriage--
an opportunity to have
a relationship
that can either acknowledge
or deny
the dignity of another.

* * * *

"So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself."

--Ephesians 5:28

Marriages founded upon what one ego desires,
needs or projects onto another person,
founded upon the emotion of love,
and not love, itself,
will fail.

Marriages nourished by over-romanticized notions
of love,
swept by self-evoked passions,
will fail.

Marriages glued with only "ego"
shall fall apart
disillusioned.
To think in love is
to not know love,
to not know marriage.

Mere love,
by itself,
is not enough to make success.
In happy marriages,
Only commitment formulates,
and only patience sustains.

* * * *

Marriage--the cause of all divorce.

* * * *

"For when they shall rise from the dead,
they neither marry, nor are given in marriage;
but are as the angels which are in heaven."
--Mark 12:25

"Whoso findeth a wife findeth a good thing, and obtaineth favor of the Lord."
--Proverbs 18:22

"Nevertheless, let every one of you in particular so love his wife even as himself; and the wife see that she reverence her husband."
--Ephesians 5:33