

MuST CHOOSe!

Label one wall of the meeting space the Yes wall and the other the No wall. Invite group members to participate in a forced-choice exercise regarding divorce. Give these instructions: I will read a statement about divorce. If you agree with the statement, move immediately to the Yes wall. If you disagree with the statement, move immediately to the No wall. You must move one way or the other, even if you don't totally agree or disagree.

The statements are listed below. Feel free to add statements written by you or by group members. Occasionally stop and invite group members to discuss their choices, especially when strong disagreement is obvious.

- Divorce is always wrong.
- Sometimes, divorce is God's will.
- Any couple can stay together and work things out if they're committed enough.
- Sometimes we just outgrow a marriage.
- Adultery is a legitimate reason to get divorced.
- Adultery is the only legitimate reason to get divorced.
- God is against divorce.
- If you fall out of love, you should get divorced.
- There's more to marriage than love.
