

VALENTINE'S DAY SCAVENGER HUNT

Since it's too cold in most parts of the country to go outside on February 14, this scavenger hunt takes place indoors with magazines. Each team sits in a circle with a pile of magazines and the following list. The first team to find and tear out all ten items is the winner.

1. A picture of a person whom you would like for a valentine.
2. A picture of something people give for a Valentine's Day gift.
3. A word "love."
4. A picture of something that rhymes with the word "valentine."
5. A picture of a romantic looking couple.
6. A picture of a piece of clothing that is red.
7. A word or picture that describes your valentine.
8. A picture of a red food.
9. A picture of anything that begins with the letter V.
10. A picture of a box of chocolates.

Each person in the group should be given one piece of a "broken heart." When the game starts, each person must try to find the other members of the group who have pieces of the same heart. The first group to get its heart "mended" successfully is the winner.

MUSICAL VALENTINE

This game is just like musical chairs, only instead of chairs, you use guys who get down on all fours in a circle. The girls should march around the guys, and when the music stops (or a whistle is blown), the girls must sit on the guys' backs. There should be one more girl than there are guys. The girl who doesn't get a guy to sit on is out, and one guy should be removed for the next round. Encourage the girls to "get tough" and really fight for their guy. It's a lot of fun.
