

Jesus, thank You for showing us the way to be servants of others. You not only attended to the needs of others who were lacking or suffering in some way, but You lay down Your life for all of us, so we could have eternal life. You call us to do the same, for all others who have some need of us. We must give something of ourselves every day, we must give ourselves away — especially to those who are lonely, poor, or rejected. Help us, Jesus, to see the opportunities that are around us. Help us to be the servants of others.

Luke 22:24-29