

What difficult moral choices do you and your friends face at school? with friends? with girlfriends or boyfriends? with parents?
at work?

What gives you direction and strength to do the right thing?