

Survey Shows What Kids Did Last Year

Lie, Cheat, Steal

From a survey by the Josephson Institute of Ethics, asking teens about their behavior during the preceding 12 months.

- Percentage of high schoolers who say they lied to teachers: 92
- Percent of high schoolers who say they lied to parents: 78
- Percent of high schoolers who say they cheated on an exam: 71
- Percent of high schoolers who say they hit someone in anger: 68
- Percent of high schoolers who say they have stolen from a store: 35
- Percent of high schoolers who say they have been drunk at school: 15 V